Question 1

1 / 1 pts

Class and Id Attributes:

As a selector in CSS an id value is preceded with a # symbol.

Answer 1:

#

Question 2

1 / 1 pts

As a selector in CSS a class value is preceded with a . symbol.

Answer 1:

.

Question 3

2 / 2 pts

A class name can repeat multiple times in one HTML page, but an id name can only be used once per HTML page.

Answer 1:

class

Answer 2:

id

Question 4

1 / 1 pts

HTML File Basics:

The file with the name index.html will always be recognized as the home page of your website when the user types in the domain name of your website.

Answer 1:

index.html

Question 5

1 / 1 pts

Meta tags belong in the head section of your HTML.

Answer 1:

head

Question 6   1 / 1 pts

A good place to validate your code is at the validation site created by, W3C , the international community that develops web standards.

Answer 1:

W3C

Question 7   1 / 1 pts

Wireframes:

A wireframe is a visual representation of the interface of the page.

Answer 1:

wireframe

Question 8   2 / 2 pts

The header and footer will remain the same for every page of our website.

Answer 1:

header and footer